INTELLIGENCE BY THE NIAGARA. TERRIBLE NEWS FROM THE PRENCH REPUBLIC. FOUR DAYS' FIGHTING.

The Archbishop of Paris Murdered. Fourteen Officers, Six Deputies, and 15,00 Men killed and Wounded.

THE REPUBLIC TRIUMPHANT.

The steamship Niagara, Capt Ryric, arrived at Boston at 7 o'clock on Wednesday morning, from Liverpool and Halifax, making her passage in less than eleven days.

From the New York and Philadelphia papears of yesterday morning, we extract the following additional particulars of the terrible

Wilmer & Smith's European Times gives the following account of this new and bloody drama in the history of France;

One of the bloodiest dramas the world ever witnessed-one of the most ferocious and ob stinate insurrections which the ensanguined history of France has had to record from her earliest annals-has just been brought to a close in the streets of Paris by the absolute annihilation of the revolted party, and triumphant success of Republican arms.

To furnish any adequate idea of this occurrence would be immeasurably to surpass our limits, and we therefore refer to the newspaper accounts, which, doubtless, will be perused with feelings of the profoundest solem-

After four days and nights of incessant fighting, the insurgents have been utterly vanquished, with a loss on both sides of 10,000 killed and 25,000 wounded, which is believed to be much beneath the true estimate. The commencement of the rebellion appears to have been made by a deputation of ouvriers, who waited upon M. Marc at the Luxemburg He listened to their grievances, but observing that their spokesman had been active in the affair of the 15th May, said to the men, "you are not the slaves of this man, you can state your own grievances." This expression was distorted amongst the workmen, that M. Marc had called them slaves, and it seems to have been the signal for the conspirators, who had organized a vast movement to commence their

On Thursday night, the 22d of June, the first barricade was raised, and the troops and the National Guards called out On Friday, the 23d, the insurgents possessed themselves of all that portion of the right bank of the River Seine, stretching from the Fouborg St. Antoine to the river; whilst on the left bank they occupied all that portion called the Cite, the Fouborgs St. Marcel, St. Victor, and the lower quarter of St. Jacques. The communication of the insurgents between the two banks of the river were maintained by the possession of the Church St. Gervaic, a part of the quarter of the temple. The approaches of Notre Dame and the bridge of St. Michael.

By these extensive lines of operation the insurgents occupied a vast portion of the most defensible part of the city, and actually threatened the Hotel de Ville, which, if they had succeeded in taking, might have secured the first victory on their side.

On Friday there were partial conflicts. but the insurgents seemed to be occupied more at fortifying their position than in actual fighting, but whatever success the government troops may have had in various quarters where conflicts took place, as at the terrible fights in the vicinity of St. Dennis and St. Martin, i now appears that the enthusiastic courage of the insurgents repulsed them, and even beat them in other parts of the city. M. Lamartine rode with the staff of Cavaignac, through Paris, to quell the insurrection; but it was evident that nothing but the power of arms could compel the insurgents to yield. The Government forces were divided into three divisions. and large masses of troops were brought to bear with artillery upon the position of the insurgents; but still Friday passed, and the insurrection had evidently gained strength.

On Saturday, the 24th, the National Assembly declared itself in permanence, and Paris was placed in a state of siege; the executive power was delegated absolutely to Cavaignac, and half-past ten, the members of the Executive had resigned. They declared that they should have been wanting in their duties and honor, had they withdrawn before. As sedition is a public peril, they only withdrew before a vote of the Assembly. Reports poured in every hour to the Assembly-and, as the intelligence arrived of the slaughter of the National Guards, and the fall of one General after another, who was killed or wounded by the insurgents, the sensation became deep and Various proclamations were issued by Cavaignac to induce the insurgents to lay down their arms, but to no effect. The whole of Saturday was employed in desperate fighting on both sides, except a lul during a frightful thunder storm. In the afternoon of Friday the conflicts were without intermission. On Satuaday, however, the car-

At half-past 10, the fighting was resumed, and it was only after a frightful struggle of about two hours that the government troops everywhere, prevailed, and that part of the insurrection being broken the insurgents were either shot, taken prisoners, or fled into the country, in the direction of Vincennes. The eastern quarters, comprising the faubourg St. Antoine, du Temple, Meuilmontant, and Pepingcourt, were the last subdued.

The last band took refuge in the celebrated Pierre la Chaise, but the Garde Mobile hunted them even from this sanctuary, and they were slaughtered in the neighboring fields. On Tuesday the insurrection was definitely

DR. TOWNSEND'S SARSAPARILLA Wonder and blessing of the Age!

THE MOST EXTRAORDINARY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD.

This Extract is put up in quart bottles; it is six times cheaper, pleasanter, and warranted superior to any sold. It cures without vomiting, purging, sickening or debilitating the patient. The great beauty and superiority of this Sarsaparilla over all other medicine is, that while it eradicates the disease, it invigorates the body. It is one of the very be-SPRING & SUMMER MEDICINES ever known; it not only purifies the whole system, and strengthens the person, but it creates new, pure and rich blood: a power possessed by no other medicine. And in this lies the grand secret of its wonderful success

It has performed within the last five years more than 100,000 cures of severe cases of disease; at least 15,000 were considered incurable. It has saved the lives of more than 5,000 children during the two past seasons.

10,000 cases of general debility and want of nervous energy. Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla invigorates the whole system permanently. To those who have lost cal prostration of the nervous system, want of ambition, fainting sensations, premature decay and decline, hastening towards that fatal disease, Consumption, can be entirely restored by this pleasant remedy. parilla is far superior to any Invigorating Cor-

The Senior instructor, Mr. John Robinson, is a practical and experienced Teacher, having for the last ten years stood at the head of his profession in Europe, as the many flattering testimonials in his possession will show. A Question

FOR THE PUBLIC TO DECIDE. MAN it be expected that Merchants and Druggists, who lend themselves to palm off upon the public their base imitations and counterfeit medicines, in preference to the genuine, merely because they can make more per cent on them, would dea! honestly in selling other articles ? We think not. Persons that deal out counterfeit medicines, and thus encourage counterfeiters, even at the expense of the health and life of their customers and neighbors, are they honest or honorable men? No. And they should be avoided.
